ENGELMANN'S PANSIES

As the result of an extensive tour through the Pansy growing districts of Europe we selected and offered to the trade last year Engelmann's Special and Engelmann's Giant. Both of these strains have been tried out and found to be what the trade wanted. Everyone who has grown either of these strains has been enthusiastic over them. The immense size of the blooms and the beautiful range of color will undoubtedly increase sales on this popular flower, especially where blooming plants are sold. If you have not already tried these we hope you will do so this year. To those who have used these strains we urge the early placing of orders as the crop will be somewhat limited.

CALENDULA DOUBLE CHRYSANTHA OR SUNSHINE

A new and outstanding florist's Calendula, coming exceptionally true to type and color. This recent introduction should become a very valuable addition to the ever popular Calendula. It is distinctly different in flower form, with wide petals which are loosely placed on the flower and resemble somewhat the Chrysanthemum. The flowers are a clear buttercup yellow fully as large as Campfire (Sensation) or Ball's Orange and with good strong stems for cutting.

Price: 1/4 lb., $2.50; lb., $6.50

CALENDULA BODGER'S PASTEL BEDDING MIXTURE

A special mixture for the home garden, and contains a balanced combination of the lighter shades of Calendulas in the dwarfer growing types of all the new and popular pastel shades and a moderate amount of brighter colors for contrast.

Price: 1/4 lb., .75; lb., $2.50

ANTIRRHINUM MAJESTIC SNOWSTORM

LEPTOSYNE STILLMANII

These four improved cut flower varieties will be found listed in our 1933 contract list. We consider these very desirable and recommend that you list them this spring. New crop seed will be available within the next four weeks.

We hope that you will give your consideration to new or additional items for your 1934 spring catalog at this time and cover immediately as flower seeds are selling out rapidly and we have already found it necessary to discontinue booking orders for some of the most popular varieties. We also expect an unusually heavy late demand and suggest that you anticipate your requirements liberally as we feel that it will be very difficult to pick up the necessary fill-in items next spring.
